ISSUE 3

Student Spotlight: Nicole Craddock

In this issue we caught up with Senior Nicole Craddock who shared a little bit about their art and art making process.

How long have you been making art?

I have been making art ever since I can remember. When I was little I always loved the idea of making whatever I could imagine. Back then I never thought I'd still be making art today but I'm so glad I followed my passion.

What inspires you?

Many things inspire my art. My father has Alzheimer's and I express my life experience through my art and characters. As a black queer person, it's sometimes really hard to find representation, so I make my stories and characters like me and many others that need representation.

Who are your favorite artists?

Several artists inspire me and make me feel a part of a community every time I open up Instagram. On Insta I follow @cherrysart @meicrosoft @laproxie @marsoids and many more! Including me- @starrylaughter2

What is your favorite kind of art to make?

My favorite kind of art to make is illustration, character design and graphic novels.

Do you plan to pursue art after graduation?

I do plan on pursuing art after high school. I got accepted into Lesley University and the illustration program! I can't wait to see where this next stage of life takes me. I want to make people smile.

Our Fine and Performing Arts students gave visual art and music demonstrations for our incoming 9th graders. Our MHS artists and musicians were proud to showcase one of the best things at MHS- the amazing arts programs!

Freshman Jayden Vil is a violinist in the MHS Orchestra. He auditioned and was selected from hundreds of students in our area to participate in the Junior Districts Festival at the beginning of March. Bravo, Jayden!

Our Elementary Winter Concert in January featured the Roberts Handchime Ensemble, our Elementary String Program, and the Select 5th Grade Band. A huge thank you to the directors, James Connors, Emma Baptist, Sophia Chang, and Christine Froomer for all of their hard work in preparing our students!

MHS's Modern Music Ensemble Performed at MMEA
In addition, Andrew Soule's original composition was recognized by MMEA's Contemporary Creator's Festival! All seven students participated in a composition and songwriting forum that included feedback on Andrew's work from composition and songwriting professors from Berklee, UMass Lowell, and the Boston Conservatory!

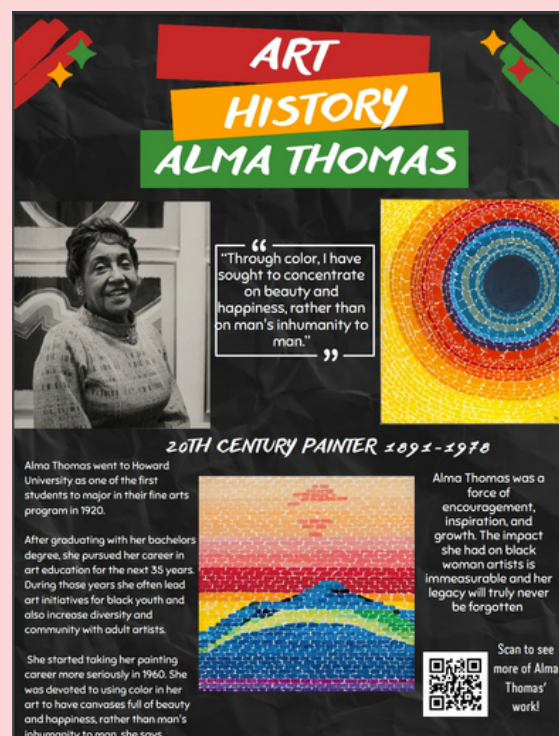

Under the direction of Kristen Turner, Brooks families and students were treated with two astounding musical performances. There was an all school Winter Assembly in February and an adorable Kindergarten Music Showcase in March. We are looking forward to the next show!
